

Scalloped Potatoes

from our garden..

Time to cook potatoes this morning. so out came peelers, graters, boards, and other ingredients , cheese and milk and we were all set to cook. It was a real team effort and tasks were not easy... the children observed each other performing, wondering how those peelers worked, grating was simpler. Pouring involved precision. Once assembled it was cooked slowly in the oven. Served later children recalled the growing , Brecon remembered underground, Katelyn told us they needed water and . sunshine Everyone was keen to eat every last slice and thought about having it at home. Discussed the how to.., recipe book or google. Children have an awareness that the earth provides us with sustaining food and have seen the cycle of growing potatoes. We will continue to grow and eat from our garden.
